[illegible] Louisiana.

[illegible] New Orl[illegible] special says It [illegible] that the people of the coun[illegible] all the labor of visiting committees [illegible] North, will be obliged to accept the [illegible] returning board without being [illegible] intelligent judgment in re[illegible] of their decision until sub[illegible] is made public The [illegible] of the board have thus far been [illegible] a manner that is calculated to [illegible] in it. Some of its rules have [illegible] and, no doubt, but no injustice [illegible] done to either party by their en[illegible] comment is made in dis[illegible] the holding back of returns [illegible] parish lay in the [illegible] office of this city ten days [illegible] authorized to pay express [illegible] were obtained yes[illegible] on the file of the board, Gov Wickliffe one of the can[illegible] the [illegible] to pay charges [illegible] that a single figure of [illegible] changed during the time [illegible] illegally withheld from the [illegible] but the very fact that they [illegible] dissatisfaction [illegible] have collected a great mass [illegible] within the past few days, show[illegible] deplorable condition of affairs [illegible] parishes. That there [illegible] in all these parishes [illegible] is no longer doubted It [illegible] in many cases of assassina[illegible] of less or greater gravi[illegible] at issue is the cause Republicans say that the [illegible]; Democrats say it was not. [illegible] will be no question—as, when a man was shot while [illegible] box to the polling place [illegible] describe murders as horrible [illegible] by the kuklux between [illegible] If they are substantiated in [illegible] they will greatly shock the [illegible] the sympathy which has [illegible] felt for the unfortunate [illegible]. A community that will [illegible] has no right to expect

[illegible] with Returns.

[illegible] Nov. 27.—The World's New Or[illegible] it is now discovered that the [illegible] parishes besides DeSoto [illegible] with, and, it is believed [illegible] returns were sealed and [illegible] the 11th, and they contain one affi[illegible] as to Democratic poll dated [illegible] in the same condi[illegible] supervisors' returns of East [illegible] were sent in they contained pro[illegible] 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 11 which, [illegible] would diminish Tilden's [illegible] and Hayes' by 992 It was [illegible] polls 3, 4 and 11 were Repub[illegible] therefore withdrew the pro[illegible] and substituted three more, namely, 8, 9 and 13 so that [illegible] would show a net loss to [illegible] of 1,1[illegible], and to Hayes of 150 Tilden [illegible] by 691, so that the vote has [illegible] to 357 for Hayes This is a sam[illegible] in which the re[illegible] their count

Case of Extreme Vitality.

[illegible] Nov. 27.—The Inter-Ocean's New [illegible] says a large number of Repub[illegible] arrived from the country par[illegible] among them, Eliza Pinkston [illegible] an awful picture Her [illegible] and baby were murdered by a band [illegible], on Saturday preceding the elec[illegible] saw her husband [illegible] in his house and his body [illegible] and shot full of bullets after he [illegible]. Her baby was killed in her arms. [illegible] bullet wound in her breast which [illegible] her lungs and out of her back [illegible] a knife in her neck a bul[illegible] one leg; a cut with a knife from [illegible] nearly to the knee, and her head is [illegible] with wounds, one of which was given [illegible] butt end of a pistol and the other [illegible] an ax. The cords in one of her feet are [illegible]. She was left for dead and how [illegible] so long seems to be a miracle. As [illegible] weeks she has been almost [illegible] hunted by the men who murdered [illegible] and babe.

[illegible] in the South Carolina Cases.

[illegible] of South Carolina affairs the Times' [illegible] special says the count concerned [illegible] alone but electors and mem[illegible] of Congress, and besides the legislature [illegible] a U S Senator therefore the [illegible] clearly within the jurisdiction of the U S Circuit Court There is no reason [illegible] the legislature on Tuesday will [illegible] without a constitutional quorum by [illegible] of Democratic members This would only postpone the counting of votes for [illegible], and under the Constitution Cham[illegible] holds till his successor is qualified. Ample provisions are made to prevent the [illegible] of peace in Columbia if anything of the kind should be attempted

[illegible] Bond's Authority

The Tribune's Washington special says [illegible] who should know the course which the Republicans will pursue say Judge Bond of the U S Circuit Court will grant a writ of habeas corpus as soon as it is asked for and that he has full authority to discharge them [illegible] arrest.

The South Carolina Board Apply for the Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Columbia, Nov 27.—On application for writs [illegible] the board of State canvassers [illegible] this morning, into the U S [illegible] court, Judge Bond and Bryan pre[illegible]. The board were in the custody of the [illegible], who, through counsel asked for time to make return to the application for the [illegible]. The court signified that time would [illegible], and that the prisoners would be held in custody of the court pending the return The application is based on the ground that the board were discharging the duties of appointing presidential electors when the supreme court of the State interfered On a subsequent motion of counsel time was granted until Wednesday at 10 o'clock to make a return pending which the board was placed in charge of the U S marshal The members are now at large but accompanied by deputy marshals It is understood that troops will be posted at the State house to morrow when the legislature meets to organize Protest Against Sending Troops to Gov Chamberlain.

Columbia Nov 27—The following dispatch signed by Senator Gordon of Georgia Senator Johnson of Virginia Wade Hampton several circuit court judges a large number of State Senators and Representatives white and colored, and many other prominent citizens of this State has just been sent to President Grant

"We the undersigned visitors from a distance and a committee of the Democratic members elect of the South Carolina legislature the Democratic executive committee and citizens have just seen by the associated press dispatch that Gov Chamberlain has applied for U S troops to be placed under his orders at the assembling of the legislature to morrow and send this, our solemn protest against troops being placed under the command of Gov Chamberlain We have no objections to the presence of troops, and will co operate with them in preserving peace but we protest against the use of the U S army in controlling the organization of the legislature and in enforcing the inauguration of Gov Chamberlain who has been defeated by the white and colored voters at the ballot box There is not the remotest danger of disturbance of the peace by the Democrats If it occurs it will be at the instigation of Gov Chamberlain, whose partisans have taken the only lives lost in the late exciting canvass in this State—not a drop of blood has been shed in any political disturbance except by Republicans It is literally true that the Democrats received their greatest majorities in counties where the U S soldiers were stationed What pretense therefore is there for Gov Chamberlain's demand for troops to keep the peace We refer for confirmation of these statements, to the commanders of the U S forces here and elsewhere in the State

The Tribune's Washington special says The protest signed by Gordon and others in South Carolina, against the President placing troops under Chamberlain is impertinent and an assumption that General Ruger commands all the troops there and receives orders direct from the President

Chief Justice Waite asked to hear the South Carolina Habeas Corpus Case.

Columbia Nov 27—The Democratic counsel and Democratic State executive committee telegraphed this afternoon, to Chief Justice Waite requesting his attendance at the U S Circuit Court Wednesday when the habeas corpus case of the State board of canvassers will be heard Both parties are in caucus to night. The city is full of people Nothing has transpired since morning

Telegram to Chief Justice Waite.

The following was sent to day to Chief Justice Waite at Washington The board of State canvassers committed for contempt by the supreme court of the State have been taken from the sheriff by order of the United States circuit judge on a writ of habeas corpus A conflict of jurisdiction arises and the issues are grave We earnestly appeal to you to preside in the court on Wednesday, the 29th, at 10 A M to hear the case or if you will appoint a day when you can attend we will apply for a postponement. Signed J De Conner Leroy F Youmans and others

Violence to Legislators in South Carolina Apprehended.

The Tribune's Washington special says The Republicans here apprehend that enough Republican members will be forcibly detained from the capital to give the organization of the legislature to the Democrats Only three or four must be detained to effect this William A Cook a lawyer of Columbia represents the feeling on both sides there intense, and violence anticipated He believes a large force of rifle clubs are prepared to capture the State House at a moment's warning He regards the electoral question settled

There is a rumor [illegible] to night that such evidences of fraud in Louisiana [illegible] discovered as will insure the State to the Republicans beyond controversy

The Inter-Ocean's Washington special says Chamberlain informs the President that he learns the rifle clubs will assemble from the whole State to morrow at Columbia to force the Democrats of Edgefield and Laurens counties into the legislature This information has considerable confirmation from other sources and is deemed to be substantially correct. This was the reason of Chamberlain's call for protection The legislature can determine the Governor and whichever party gets the organization elects the Governor

In the cabinet meeting which resulted in the order of Secretary Cameron Attorney General Taft discussed the situation in South Carolina and gave a decided opinion that the Supreme Court of South Carolina should be impeached for its recent conduct. They had no jurisdiction nor authority to interfere They only way the matter could be reached was by appeal to the court after the board adjourned All the members of the Cabinet concurred in this opinion and also that Governor Chamberlain should be supported by Federal authority. It is believed here that this order has averted revolution in South Carolina To morrow will be an exciting time and possibly there will be a conflict between the clubs and the soldiers Private dispatches say Chamberlain has already given the Republicans certificates so that the legislature or Hampton cannot interfere with them

Wade Hampton's Home Burned.

Columbia Nov 27—General Hampton's home three miles from this city was burned Friday last during the night The flames burst simultaneously from all parts of the building The General's two sisters and two young sons had only time to escape with their lives and a few articles of vertu saved from the fire of 1865 when Hampton's father's home was burned at the same time as his own The silver and clothing were all burned the ladies barely saving their dressing gowns and General Hampton has not a single article of clothing except those he has on The fire was the work of an incendiary The General lodged in the city that night There was no insurance

Unfounded Story

Charleston Nov 27—The story of the burning of Gen Hampton's house by a mob is unfounded It probably arose from the fact that the residence of Gen Hampton's sister about five miles from Columbia was burned on Friday night. It is supposed by an incendiary

How the Increased Vote in Florida was Obtained.

The Times Washington special says Ex U S Senator Osborne of Florida has written to a friend in this city explaining the operations of the Democrats in reference to the vote in that State Osborne has made an analysis of the Democratic vote, and says he finds it shows a uniform increase of one third a majorities over the previous elections This uniformity of increase is the result of a deliberate plan matured prior to the election and was secured in various ways. The general instructions of Tilden's managers to the Florida county commissioners were to make their majorities show this increase, leaving the methods of accomplishment to local managers In some instances the result was accomplished by importing and voting Democrats from Georgia and Alabama, in others by violence and intimidation and in some places by altering the returns after the polls had closed Osborne says the fact of the uniformity of increase in Democratic local majorities will be established by an inspection of the vote, and the methods by which this remarkable result was accomplished can be satisfactorily proved by competent witnesses

Election of President by Congress

New York Nov 26—The Times Washington dispatches contain a letter from ex Senator Foote in which he ridicules the position lately taken by Clarkson N Potter on the Presidential question, and declares the constitution only contemplates the election of President by the House of Representatives when there are three or more candidates This is not the exigency Foote continues described by Potter who has imagined a new one not at all known to the constitution and who artlessly contends that either House by procuring a sufficient number of votes invalid may create the exigency of which the House of Representatives may immediately take advantage.

In closing his letter, Judge Foote says after having been tempted to write this much on this all engrossing subject I do not feel willing to leave unnoticed one of the most fallacious notions that ever entered the brain of a fanciful and shallow pretender to the knowledge of constitutional law. The constitution of the United States in the most explicit manner invests each of the States with full power to appoint Presidential electors in such mode as they shall choose. The tribunal established by them by whatever name called for the purpose of canvassing or scrutinizing the votes cast for electors unless there be some appeal from its decision must of necessity have exclusive and final power over the subject and no other tribunal on earth can possibly have authority to rejudge such decisions when once formally rendered The attempt of any court whatever to interfere with its action by injunction mandamus or other proceedings is one of the most unauthorized and absurd acts of usurpation anywhere on record as no lawyer of intelligence and honesty would hesitate to decide To assert to the contrary would indeed give evidence of such imbecility or disingenuousness as should bring a blush of shame to the face of the most impudent pettifogger in Christendom

One More Ineligible.

The Times Greensboro, N C says The Democrats here are very much excited by the discovery of the fact that one of the Tilden electors Wm B Glenn is ineligible He is one of the commissioners appointed by the Southern claims commission to take testimony That will give one Republican elector to North Carolina

The Vote in North Carolina

The Times New Orleans correspondent expresses the belief that the returning board are now only going through the form of canvassing, the ballots and they have fully determined to count Hayes and Packard in at all hazards Republican witnesses from contested counties throng the streets

The Times Columbia special represents that there is no danger from violence though the people are intensely interested in the results of to morrow's work.

Trouble About Oregon's Elector.

The Times Washington special says The Oregon elector is beginning to trouble the Republicans sorely They have heard that Gov Grover will commission a Democratic elector and are looking around to see how the difficulty can be met. They talk of suppressing the result in North Carolina until definite news comes from Oregon If Grover gives the Democratic elector a certificate, then the Republican Governor of North Carolina will refuse a certificate to a North Carolina Democratic elector

THE EASTERN WAR.

The Main Issue.

London Nov 26—A Vienna correspondent of the Times telegraphs that the real difference in the conference will be on the question of occupation. Every proposal tending toward compromise or delay on that point is readily taken hence it has been proposed that an European Commission be formed to accept of reforms also that commission have power to move for armed occupation The success of this project depends on its acceptance by Russia, hopes of which are becoming fainter daily, so the question comes to the foreground what will the Powers do if Russia declines such compromise insists on occupation and carries it into effect. The attitude of the Porte according to news from Constantinople is not reassuring The Porte still takes up the position on the 9th article of the treaty of Paris, which provides that the Powers shall not interfere in the internal affairs of the Turkish Empire

A Vienna dispatch to the Daily News says Polish papers report Russia proposes that Servia shall conclude with her a military convention such as existed between Bavaria and the North German Confederation during the Franco Prussian war

Proposed Plan of Settlement.

Paris Nov 27—The correspondent of the Times, discussing the prospects of the conference at Constantinople, says the people even affirm that the Marquis of Salisbury the English plenipotentiary though on principle opposed to foreign occupation has not an absolute predetermination even on that point He will discuss with unbiased mind the question of collective occupation within limits which cannot alarm the Porte, nor excite the suspicions of any power The Times, in a leading article also openly favors collective occupation It says the occupying force should in case of each province be procured from some power which cannot be suspected of harboring any designs upon the province in which it is placed. No objection could be raised to this as long as the force furnished is trustworthy and sufficient The jealousies of the guaranteeing powers and the antipathy of the Porte may be allayed by the adoption of this salutary principle

Violent Debate in the French Chamber of Deputies.

A Paris correspondent draws attention to Prince Napoleon's speech in the Chamber of Deputies on Friday The Prince in violent terms denounced the dangers of increasing and supported a proposal for a reduction of the estimates for public worship The correspondent says the speech marks the entry of a pretender on the scene, and Prince Napoleon has chosen his opportunity at a time when a conflict between the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies seems impending The Prince, has, two great qualities of a dangerous conspirator, patience and audacity, and all those will range themselves round him who dare to obtain as a passing tool, a chief who is ready to subserve anti religious passions

Crop Prospects in Europe.

London Nov 28—Mark Lane Express says The seedling wheat plant, in consequence of the so far favorable weather, still preserves a healthy appearance There has been no further spread of the potato disease in Ireland the crop though doubtless suffering from blight in some districts had not on the whole been affected to any alarming extent. The present prospect of trade appears sufficiently strong to justify farmers in holding back wheat as long as possible. The continuance of meagre supplies of home grown grain in the London and country markets indicates an advance of English wheat On Saturday there was an advance of a shilling to two shillings per quarter in a majority of provincial markets, but growers showed little inclination to sell even at that improvement, whilst in Mark Lane the few samples offering on Monday fetched fully previous prices the local trade during the temporary turn in political affairs has regained its natural balance A healthier tone has prevailed although business has not been brisk This however can scarcely be expected when imports are being daily added to by a number of arrivals from ports which are ice bound during winter The week's imports have been thus swelled by numerous arrivals of Russian wheat while the quantity on passage has also increased there being now about 200 000 quarters of last shipments from California which accounts for this increase and from all other usual sources, show a diminution compared with the corresponding period last year the enormous crop on the Pacific slope has been the single exception to the rule of a short harvest If the United Kingdom is its ultimate destination, apprehension as to future prices might be justly entertained The Continental demand may relieve us of a considerable quantity Maize in London has recovered its depression an advance of about six pence having been realized on account of the continental demand Several cargoes off the coast have been taken for continental ports especially because of higher prices than United Kingdom buyers were at first willing to pay although they subsequently had to allow the advance There have been few arrivals of wheat cargoes at ports of call and limited business at firm prices

How Tweed Escaped.

New York Nov 27—Thurlow Weed visited Tweed in jail the former afterward told a reporter he passed an hour and a half with Tweed and found him to be in better health than he expected He had grown thinner but this he declined an improvement and he regarded him as far better than when he last saw him Tweed told him he had escaped on the evening of his drive straight on board a yacht which conveyed him to the vessel on which he sailed for Cuba. From the hour of his starting to the present he had suffered only from a slight attack of diabetes shortly after the Franklin left Vigo He had taken but little exercise on the voyage over as he was compelled to walk in company with a sentinel which was unpleasant He had as yet formed no idea as to what course of action he would take that was under the consideration of his counsel He had no unkind feeling toward any one The government had his baggage and were welcome to what it contained They could not find a word that would implicate any one He thought Tilden had acted harshly toward him but he had nothing to say in retaliation and would not say it if he had. Denunciation of Chinese cheap labor has been the stock in trade of pothouse politicians and demagogues in California and many of the witnesses who have been giving testimony before the commission have been of this class. Ex Gov Lowe was a witness of higher order He was at one time minister to China and has evidently given the subject very careful consideration He declared that the welfare of the whole coast would be promoted by limiting immigration He was disposed, however, to do John Chinaman full justice. He had never seen but one Chinaman under the influence of liquor At home they were the most industrious people in the world During his residence in China he had never seen any idle classes except officials, labor was respected there. As a banker he had no occasion to complain of the honesty of the race "The Chinaman" he said, does not stand in the way of full-grown muscular white men but he may in the lighter branches of farming such as hop and fruit-picking, prevent the employment of boys. Any man, strong of muscle and willing to work, can find labor in California Where simple muscle only is required the white man cannot compete with the Chinese, but where muscle and brain combined are required, I should say Yes. Chinese labor however, will be gradually supplanted by that of skilled workmen and apprentices "—N. Y. Tribune.

TUESDAY MORNING NOV. 28 1876

ARBORICULTURE.

One of the first things which forcibly strikes a traveler through Eastern Oregon is the general want of trees. A very large portion of that part of the State is entirely without shade, except along the streams and on the mountain sides. The opinion has frequently been expressed that this evil is without remedy, on account of the arid nature of the soil and the want of sufficient rain in summer. It is true that very little rain falls during some of the summer months and that the soil is dry on the surface and sandy or light. It may also be true that many kinds of trees might not find moisture enough for their necessities. But we think there are some which are by nature so patient of drought and so hardy as to be well fitted to exist and thrive in that locality.

Among these are the locust, the acacia, the Osage orange and the Chinese mulberry. They are all natives of warm climates, and all grow well in light sandy soils. They are also, with the exception of the acacia, good timber trees capable when grown of furnishing suitable material for fencing and for firewood. They are besides of quick growth. The Osage orange is particularly desirable, as it can be trained as a hedge-plant, and then it will make the best and most lasting enclosures, infinitely superior to the kind of fences found on most ranches at present. With proper care and attention any ranche can be enclosed with a living hedge, which will turn stock and last three or four times as long as the best fences of any other kind.

Beyond the obvious advantage of having a fine grove of flourishing trees about the buildings on a ranche, furnishing an agreeable and refreshing shade and refuge from the scorching glare and heat of a mid summer day, there are other advantages which are even more important. Experience has shown that rains are more frequent and that the soil retains moisture far better in places where trees are numerous than where they are scarce. The experiments of the French in Algeria have proved that the desert of Sahara, itself, can be reclaimed by the simple process of planting and cultivating trees. In every locality where groves of trees were made, rains, which had been almost unknown, became gradually more and more frequent, and the soil, which had been sterile, became fertile and bore luxuriant crops. It is not hard to believe that if such results followed the planting and growth of trees in Algeria, they would follow a similar planting and culture in Eastern Oregon, where not a tithe of the difficulties encountered by the French in Africa are to be contended with. It would not be a very great while before the trees planted in any of the valleys of Eastern Oregon would grow and thrive without irrigation. There is an abundance of water in the ground at a short distance beneath the surface, and after a short while the roots of the trees, specially of the kinds named, would reach it and then they would need no further care, but would grow rapidly without any attention from the planter.

It is well worth while for settlers in that part of the State to make a trial of a few trees. The seed of the osage orange and the locust can be obtained without much cost or trouble, and the rapidity of their growth is astonishing, the osage orange often growing six feet from the seed in twelve months. In three years it would be large enough to make handles for hoes and other farm implements, and in six years it would be large enough to make wagon tongues, for which use its hardness, elasticity and durability specially fit it. The same might be said of the locust and the Chinese mulberry, though the latter is less fitted for use in wagons or farm implements than either of the two others. It is, however, good fence timber and a good shade tree.

The U. S. Senators from the new State of Colorado chosen by the legislature now in session, are both natives of the empire State. The Republican members of the legislature appear to have unanimously settled upon Jerome B. Chaffee of Denver as their first choice. For the second Senatorship there was a sharp contest in the caucus between four candidates, requiring ten ballots before a decision was arrived at. The choice ultimately fell on H. M. Teller, a resident of the northern part of the State. Judge Chaffee was born in Niagara county, N. Y., and is 51 years old. He has had some Congressional experience having served as delegate from Colorado in the Forty Second and Forty-Third Congresses. He was likewise designated for United States Senator by the Territorial legislature in 186- when the first application was made for the admission of the State. Mr. Teller was born in Allegheny county and is 47 years of age, has been a resident of Colorado since 1860. His prominence has been more as a lawyer than as a legislator. Both Senators have followed the law as a profession but are also extensively interested in mining operations. They stand high in the esteem of the people of Colorado and it is generally considered will ably represent that young State in the National councils.

The foreign press seem to be of the opinion that Russia will interpose some objection to the proposed plan of joint occupation by the Powers of the revolted provinces of Turkey which will result in breaking up the coming conference and precipitate a conflict. It is to be hoped that Russia will do no such thing but it is apparent that a strong war feeling exists in Russia, and if the Czar should declare war with Turkey he will have the enthusiastic support of his subjects. An evidence of this may be seen in the great success of the late loan put out by the Russian government which was subscribed for over and over again by the people of that empire.

The Republicans have made a net gain of seven Congressmen in Pennsylvania, viz Edward Overton over Joseph Powell Dem in the 13th district, A. C. Harmer over Jno Robbins in the 5th, Jacob M Campbell over Jno Reilly in the 17th, Russell Errett over James H Hopkins in the 23d, Thomas M Bayne over Alex. G. Cochrane in the 23d, Harry White over Geo. A. Jenks in the 25th, John M Thompson over James Sheokley in the 2_th and Lewis F Watson over Albert G Egbert in the 27th district, a gain of eight, and a loss of one in the 12th district the Republican being defeated by Hendrick B. Wright Dem.

Chief Justice Waite has been invited by the South Carolina Democrats to hear the habeas corpus case of the board of canvassers next Wednesday. It is to be hoped the Chief Justice will accede to the request, as Judge Bond is a man of such character and ability that his decision can have but little weight with those who know him well and it is especially desirable that in this case the decision of the court shall carry and the respect of the fair minded men of all parties.

The Republicans have gained four Congressmen in Missouri, viz: Ittner in the first, Cole in the second, Metcalfe in the third, and Pollard in the tenth district. A dispatch from Wm Hyde, managing editor of the St. Louis Republican says: "The majority for Gen John S Phelps, Democratic candidate for Governor over G. A. Finkelnburg, Republican is fifty one thousand votes with seven counties to hear from which will increase it."

The following is the summary of the result of the late election in this State:

Williams majority over Lane	1 100
Cartwright's majority over Cronin	1 043
Odell's majority over Lasswell	1 053
Watts majority over Klippel	1 066

Mr Cartwright leads the two other electors on the Republican ticket 3 votes.

Mr Cronin received 5 votes more than Lasswell and 21 more than Klippel.

Cooper got 506 votes in the whole State.

Mr Weed the wiliest of interviewers has paid Tweed a visit for the purpose no doubt of finding out what Tweed would tell about Mr Tilden. But Mr Weed was disappointed. Tweed if he had anything to divulge was determined to keep silent and Mr Weed retired from his presence not much wiser than when he entered it.

The tender child who left us first
With knowledge strange foretold her fate
Bade us not weep when tears would burst,
And calmly passed to Heaven's gate
She bade us all her there to meet
To sit at Papa's sacr age sent
And shall we not with each at feet,
Walk on through life for Heaven intent.

Her brother then, in flush of health
Wished not within the grave to lie
But soon fair Clyde—our baby wealth—
His sister joined. Our weary eye
In vain seeks for their presence dear
The infant band united are
(By Jesus love from guilt made clear)
Where death no family can mar.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 28, 1876.

CITY.

[illegible] OPERATIC SEASON.—Mr. Tracy Titus, the well-known opera manager and agent, arrived in this city on the steamer from San Francisco. Mr. Titus comes to Portland for the purpose of securing, if possible, sufficient subscriptions from our citizens to warrant him in bringing up a first class operatic company. If a sum large enough is guaranteed by the citizens, the company will start for [illegible] and open a short operatic season in the Market theater—for six nights—commencing Dec. 6th. Three English operas and an equal number of opera bouffe will be presented. In another column will be found the names of those who are to constitute the company. They are all first-class artists. To day Mr. Titus will call on our citizens and afford all who desire, an opportunity to subscribe. [illegible] ago this public was imposed upon by a [illegible] son who promised to bring to Portland a good opera troupe if a stipulated [illegible] was guaranteed. The required sum was [illegible] but a very inferior company was [illegible] up. We sincerely hope that the unfortunate circumstance alluded to will not stand in the way of obtaining subscriptions, and Mr. Titus is a gentleman who will faithfully carry out every promise he may make.

CENTENNIAL AWARDS.—Hon. A. J. Dufur has kindly furnished us with the following complete list of diplomas, awarded Oregon at the [illegible] Exposition, and the names of the [illegible] whom they were awarded: C. P. [illegible], rye and oats; Oregon City [illegible] Mills; Salem Flouring Mills; D. D. [illegible] Mola[illegible] Bros., oatmeal; Alden [illegible], W. S. Plummer, dried fruit; [illegible] Kelly, dried fruit; M. Wilkins, [illegible] wool; T. L. Davidson, merino wool; [illegible], canned and pickled salmon; [illegible] & Co., canned salmon; Benjamin [illegible] ar; John Ashcroft, prunes; [illegible] J. A. Jackson, gold specimens; [illegible] Furniture Manufacturing Company; [illegible] Co., He[illegible] Toll; Parrish & Miller, [illegible] Holton, veneers; C. E. Reed, comb[illegible].

[illegible]—It seems that a good deal of [illegible] is experienced in getting a law in [illegible] effectually prevent the vice [illegible]. The law as it existed prior to [illegible] of the legislature was entirely [illegible], and according to a decision in [illegible] yesterday, the late act [illegible] back to the old law. It is [illegible] in the community that Alf. [illegible] of the Cornucopia saloon, was [illegible] indicted under the recent [illegible]. The State appearing by Mr. [illegible] attorney, and the defendant [illegible] J. C. Moreland, a demurrer [illegible] was filed and argued before [illegible] Judge Shattuck, who, after taking [illegible] under advisement, sustained the [illegible] on the ground that the law failed to [illegible] the prohibited games. The [illegible] go before the Supreme Court.

[illegible]—Rev. Wm. G. Simpson, of Boise City, will deliver a free lecture in the M. E. [illegible] East Portland, on Wednesday evening [illegible] on "Life in the Highlands of [illegible]." Mr. Simpson is a thoroughly ed[illegible] and comes among us with the [illegible] of being an unusually fluent and [illegible] speaker. He will deliver at the [illegible] Wednesday evening a lecture, [illegible] Life, Death and Resurrection of [illegible] our East Portland friends [illegible] of this opportunity [illegible] lectures.

[illegible] AMUSEMENT.—A great treat [illegible] ts and children. The [illegible] Unitarian Sunday school are [illegible] for one of the most de[illegible] entertainments ever given [illegible] of the reading of Dickens' [illegible] Carol—"Scrooge and [illegible] L. F. Henderson, with seven [illegible] telling the story. This public [illegible] will be given on Saturday [illegible] 23d. Further notice will [illegible].

OREGON'S CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER.

RETURN OF HON. A. J. DUFUR—HE IS SERENADED AND PRESENTED WITH A GOLD WATCH.

Hon. A. J. Dufur, centennial commissioner for Oregon, who has done such a grand and noble work at the exposition for this State, returned on the last steamer from the East, and was serenaded last night at the St. Charles hotel. The music and display of fireworks attracted a large crowd that collected about the hotel, while the parlor was thronged to repletion by the host of warm, personal friends of Mr. Dufur. Presently the large office of the hotel was crowded, and soon loud and continued calls were made for Mr. Dufur.

In response to the calls, Mr. Dufur appeared on the first landing of the broad stairway. His appearance was the signal for three hearty cheers, which were given with a will. Mr. Dufur addressed the crowd for a few minutes, in which he returned his grateful thanks to his many friends for this demonstration of public approval and appreciation. He said it was peculiarly gratifying to him to know that his humble efforts made to promote Oregon's best interest in the exhibition of her great natural resources to the nations of the world, were appreciated by the people of the State. He alluded to the very creditable display made by Oregon at the exposition, and of the many complimentary comments made by the press of the country and, the awarding committee. He said it did his heart good to see and know that his State made such a display, and had got away with so many well earned laurels. For one he felt it was a proud distinction to be an Oregonian. Oregon had been awarded thirty-five medals and diplomas—more than any other State in the Union—for an exhibition of natural productions. Even the great State of California had received only five medals. He thought that it was glory enough for this State to know that she had beaten her big and pretentious sister so badly in the contest. Mr. Dufur said many other things, but time and space forbid further mention now.

After thanking again and again his friends for their manifestation of approval and endorsement of his humble efforts, he retired to the parlor. But the old gentleman's friends did not propose to allow him to escape so easily. A large number followed him into the parlor, and when all was quiet, Mr. Joseph Buchtel stepped out and calling everybody to order, introduced W. P. Watson, Esq., who proceeded to give his auditors a succinct history of Mr. Dufur for the past 17 years. During Mr. Watson's remarks, Mr. Dufur (who every one knows is a very modest old gentleman) kept blushing and looking as awkward as a school boy. But his courage entirely forsook him when his friend stepped forward and said: "In behalf of your many friends I present you these tokens as substantial evidence of their appreciation of your great and invaluable services in behalf of Oregon." "These tokens" spoken of, consisted of a fine silk plug hat and a magnificent gold watch and chain, the whole outfit costing about $300. Mr. Dufur took the presents, and after steadying his nerves and clearing his throat, proceeded to thank his donors in the best language he could command, but it was very evident that his feelings had a little the best of him. Repeatedly assuring his friends that he should ever remember this expression of sentiments of confidence with a grateful heart, Mr. D. resumed his seat. The watch was of elegant workmanship and bore the following appropriate inscription: "Presented to Hon. A. J. Dufur in appreciation of his valuable services at the Centennial Exposition, by his many friends in behalf of the people of Oregon, Nov. 27, 1876." Short and appropriate remarks were made by Joseph Gaston, Esq., and O. P. Mason, Esq., when the crowd dispersed. The affair was a most enjoyable one, and the presents were as richly deserved as they were highly gratifying to the recipient. Mr. Dufur will have reason to gratefully remember the occasion in future years should his life be spared.

CHARITY FAIR.

In the room beneath the Oro-Fino Theater the fair in aid of St. Vincent's hospital is being held. Last evening witnessed the inaugural of what promises to be a successful season. The interest and display is of course not as great on the opening night as may be looked for later in the week, but sufficient was observed to warrant one in believing that with the unusual scarcity of money, a considerable sum will find its way to the exchequer.

St. Michael's College Band, comprising a number of boys attending the school, play at intervals and show marked improvement. Entering the hall our attention is called to the POST OFFICE.

A pleasant little lady addressing you with the remark that "Here is a letter for you," and you are reminded that the postage is only 25 cents. The charge is seemingly high, but a winning smile is sure to bring you to terms, and finally the necessary coin is transferred and accepted with thanks. Misses Ella Raleigh, Mary Carroll and Lizzie Smith act as postal agents.

Table No. 1, presided over by Misses Katie and Annie Showers and Mrs. H. L. Herman, attracts attention on the left. A picture of Beatrice and others, besides a doll, child's cloak, album, moss and wool work framed, and two cages with birds are the leading features.

Table No. 2, in charge of Miss Tillie Raleigh, Mrs. N. O'Neil and Mrs. Carrol, is equally attractive. Chinaware, a large cake, furs and muff, and two large pictures, attract most attention.

Table No. 3, the "Centennial," is certainly the most elaborately furnished. Over all is a beautiful picture, "Rock of Ages," elegantly framed, and arranged here and there are a sofa cushion, silver ware, morning dress, wax wreath and moss cross, child's velvet suit, a large cake, and in a cage an Australian bird, besides many other articles. Misses Mary Maher, Ellen Ryan and Susie Neppach and assistants give all the information necessary, and are anxious to receive names on their book.

Table No. 4 is only partly filled, and to-day additions will be made. Miss Maggie Burke is entitled to the credit for the display here.

Misses Emma Showers and Rosa Norton provide the "sweets of life" at the candy stand, and everything there is sweetness.

The "Wheel of Fortune" is a central attraction. Miss Kate Fay and Miss E. Cahalin control the destinies of this institution.

In the west end of the room is the refreshment department, and a full corps of ladies present look after those desiring to appease the wants of the inner man. In this connection we have been requested to state that persons who have promised articles for this department are solicited to send them in as soon as possible.

A piano will be placed in the hall to-day, and a competent performer will preside at it this evening.

The management is under the control of Messrs. S. J. McCormick, Jos. R. Wiley, H. E. Edwards and Mr. Curran, who take charge of the books, funds, and see that everything is carried on with satisfaction to visitors.

Children will not be permitted in the hall unless accompanied by their parents. The fair will be continued to-night, and articles raffled off as the books are filled.

DISSOLUTION OF COPARTNERSHIP.

The copartnership existing between Joe Oppenheimer and Henry Ackerman, better known as Ackerman's Dollar Store, will be dissolved January 1, 1877. It is imperatively necessary that our stock be disposed of before that time. It being a very large and complete one, comprising in the main elegant Holiday Presents, Crockery, Glass and Fine Plated Ware, it will be readily seen that great sacrifices must be made to dispose of it all within the time set.

The attention of the public, and especially of dealers throughout the State, is called to the above.

CAPITAL NOTES.

Our correspondent at Salem, under date of Nov. 27th, sends the following:

Anna, daughter of O. P. Beardsley, died this (Sunday) afternoon.

The Congregational church received several new accessions at the morning service Sunday last.

Salem weather decidedly mixed, and we have given up endeavoring to keep track of it at all.

The board of managers of the State Agricultural Society will meet in this city Tuesday, the 28th inst.

Dr. J. D. McCurdy is thinking of moving away from this city, which has been his home for four years.

The M. E. Sunday school gave their monthly missionary concert this afternoon, which was well attended.

Prof. T. M. Gatch of the Willamette University, bids fair to become the Republican candidate for the mayoralty of the city.

The Chemeketa Hotel is receiving a thorough overhauling, preparatory to its reopening by S. F. Matthews, Esq., on Thanksgiving day.

A prominent capitalist of this city is, it is rumored, about to reassume matrimonial responsibilities, a Piety Hill belle being the bride elect.

Mrs. B. A. Ford will receive her friends on Friday evening next in honor of her daughter, Mrs. T. N. Ford nee Miss Georgia Perceval, of Olympia.

A number of the wagers on the result of the Presidential election have been drawn by mutual consent, Democrats being apparently very willing to do so.

And now comes the report that a private residence on State street will be the scene of a brilliant wedding ere many days,—one of the daughters of the resident thereof to be the fair young bride.

The various candidates for city offices are busy figuring up their chances of securing the much desired nominations at the city convention. The "slate," however, is about made up from all appearances.

An alarm of fire on Saturday last at 10 A. M. gave our city firemen a lively race through the mud and rain. It was at the deaf mute school, and was extinguished before the engines arrived on the spot.

Messrs. Good and Williams, two well known compositors, have taken the contract of publishing the daily and weekly Mercury, of this city, its typographical appearance being highly commendable of their skill.

The ladies of the Congregational church are perfecting arrangements for a grand Thanksgiving sociable, to be held at Reed's Opera House on Thursday evening next. Every attendant anticipate a pleasant time.

Our dignified State librarian lost his hat while leaning over the railing of the bridge crossing Mill creek on Thursday evening last, and was compelled to indulge in the balance of his stroll by moonlight without head gear of any kind.

Griswold's water works are assuming immense proportions, and promise to become a great convenience to the city. The pumps—having a throwing capacity of 20,000 gallons an hour, are already here, and the works are nearing completion very fast.

The Baptist minister baptized two new members of his church in the mill pond today, a very large crowd witnessing the ceremony. One of the parties was converted on the spot and requested baptism when the first candidate stepped out of the water.

Never since Salem was a city have the Republican primaries been as largely attended as they were last evening. The following councilmen were nominated in their respective wards: 1st ward—David McCully. 2d—A. A. McCully. 3d—Warner Breyman. 4th—Elisha Strong. Delegates were also elected to attend the city convention, which meets on Saturday evening next.

Captains and pilots will note the fact that Peter Wilhelm has fitted up two rooms for their especial use at the Fountain, corner Ash and First streets. English papers on file shortly and everything cosy.

N. B. The "Wightman Process" gives immediate relief, and cures in a very short time without the use of the knife, caustic or ligature. Persons living at a distance and suffering, can receive the remedy by express, C. O. D. (Not Mail). All letters containing stamp for return postage will be promptly answered. DR C. T. WIGHTMAN.

W. L. ADAMS, M. D., A. M., LL. D., corner of First and Salmon streets, is curing the most inveterate chronic diseases of all kinds at a low price, by medicated, electric lightning steam baths, and by combining the German and French with the American improved practice, mixed with a little common sense. His treatment is, in the main, entirely original, and works almost miracles, as his numerous patients will attest. Is extraordinarily successful in treating female complaints.

Sore eyes speedily relieved. The worst form of piles cured, and the most malignant cancers, eradicated root and branch without the use of the knife, or the money refunded.

SEATTLE ITEMS.

Under date of November 24, our correspondent sends the following:

For the past two days a torrent of rain has fallen without cessation.

Delegate Jacobs went below on the Dakota last Sunday, taking with him his lady.

Outside capital is here, prospecting for suitable location and terms for building a ship yard.

The bark Marmion arrived last evening from San Francisco with a considerable freight for Seattle.

Work on Front street has been stopped for some days and the street is left in a very inconvenient condition.

It is rumored that artificial stone of Leathers' patent will soon be used in erecting a two-story building by H. R. Yesler, soon.

Membership in the city council of Seattle must be an unenviable distinction, judging from the four comparatively recent resignations.

The Alida is lying at Bullene's machine shop, having her machinery repaired, cylinders bored out, and other necessary work done.

Since the establishment of the daily mail we have regular communication four times weekly with Victoria, as against twice previously.

Northrup's directory for Seattle is finished and has been shipped to Tumwater for binding. It will be ready for delivery within a few days.

Mr. J. M. Colman will commence the building of a large deep sea bark—1,000 tons burden—in a short time. She will be used in the grain trade between San Francisco and Europe.

Tom Merry issues seven editions of his daily, giving us, like the Chronicle, a Sunday paper. He has also, since publishing the Dispatch, changed it from an evening to a morning publication.

Work on the new Presbyterian church here is nearly completed, the plastering having been finished several days ago. It is not at all a handsome edifice, externally, but within it looks neat and convenient.

The rapid increase in the number of steamers having headquarters here has caused Mr. Yesler to contemplate a further extension of his wharf a distance of eighty feet out in the stream, and of corresponding front.

Work on the Seattle and Walla Walla railroad is progressing quite rapidly, considering the bad weather. The narrow gauge Mason engine is found to work admirably. Ed. McCall, formerly on the N. P. R. R., is engineer.

Yesterday the offices of the county auditor, sheriff, treasurer and probate judge were moved to rooms provided for them on the second floor of the jail. This change will prove a great saving in the matter of rents to the county.

The Anderson makes Seattle her headquarters and connecting with the Zephyr from up the Sound leaves this place for Victoria every Tuesday and Saturday mornings, while the Pacific leaves Seattle every Monday and Thursday mornings.

This evening the members of the Congregational church will give an entertainment at their church, which has been recently refurnished and finished. The building presents a very handsome appearance, and Rev. Mr. Ellis has reason for feeling gratified at the condition of the society in Seattle.

NOTES FROM ALBANY.

Our regular correspondent, writing from the above place under date of the 27th, sends the following:

City election next Monday.

Wheat is selling at 75 cents per bushel, with prospects of a rise.

Mr. George Settlemier and family have been in our city for the past few days.

Sunday school concert to the M. E. church on Wednesday evening Dec. 6th.

Christmas tree on Monday evening 25th, at the M. E. church. So we are told.

A new building is going up on Main street where the fire occurred a few nights since.

Steamers are taking a large assortment of wheat down the river, bound for Portland.

Mr. Alexander, of San Francisco, is canvassing this city for a California religious paper.

Capt. Charley Troupe, of Vancouver, now an officer on one of the river steamers, took a stroll through our city last week.

The trustees of the Brownsville Methodist church are taking the necessary steps to remove the present indebtedness and reconstruct their house of worship.

The weather is as beautiful as spring season, so that we hear the sound of the hammer in almost every direction, buildings going up and the town generally improving.

We understand that the ladies of this city are preparing a grand supper to be connected with their fair on Thanksgiving evening, the proceeds of which are for the destitute.

We all welcome our Thanksgiving Day, as it will be the occasion of the reunion of many happy families, though it may be somewhat sad for those who are far away from home and friends.

The large warehouse at the depot in this place is 100x200 feet, and has a capacity of 200,000 bushels, and is perhaps the best arranged establishment of the kind in the State of Oregon, the elevators being run by steam.

The entertainment at the College on Wednesday night last was a success, and the attendance was fully up to our expectations. The public showed on that occasion a high appreciation of those who conduct the school.

Mr. Mullenhoff's youngest daughter, some nine years of age, died on Saturday last in this city. Before her death she gave directions as to her costume for the grave, also for her funeral services, which she wished to be held at the church. She was to all appearances a mature Christian, as she died very happy.

DR. HALFRUNER, CHIROPODIST, of Portland, will be in Albany, Nov. 24th; Salem, 25th, 26th and 27th. We would advise persons suffering with any complaints of the feet to consult with the doctor.

The power of the Press was invoked in favor of Noble Whisky, and to this as well as to its purity and superior quality is due the hold it has taken in popularity.—Editor

MORE ABOUT COUNTING THE ELECTORAL VOTE.

Major McDonald chief clerk of the Senate who has seen forty years service in connection with that body and who has witnessed the counting of every electoral vote since 1837 ought to be well qualified to speak with reference to the usage of Congress in this matter. He says that from 1789 down to 1860 the usual mode was for the two houses to appoint a joint commission which generally consisted of three members of the Senate and five of the House, to report the manner in which the vote should be counted. The commission always recommended that tellers be appointed on the part of the Senate and the House. In 1857 James M Mason of Virginia President pro tempore of the Senate presided at the counting of the electoral vote. After it had been counted and James Buchanan had been declared elected President and John C Breckinridge Vice President a Representative Humphrey Marshall arose and raised a question of order to wit: Had the President pro tem of the Senate the right to declare or to decide whether, or not the vote of the state of Wisconsin should be counted. The President of the Senate pro tem., Mr Mason, refused to entertain the question of order, and thereupon left the chair and proceeded back to the Senate chamber followed by the members of the Senate without waiting for any question to be put to the joint meeting. In so doing he virtually said to both Houses: The power of counting or rejecting the vote of any State under the Constitution is vested in me and in me alone consequently all objections to counting the vote of any State are entirely out of order. Major McDonald is of the opinion that we are in the same position to day and that, unless some definite system is adopted we must depend upon the judgment and impartiality of one man alone. That man of course will be the presiding officer of the Senate whoever he may be on the Second Wednesday in February.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY ELECTION

According to the returns reported it is certain that Judge Jacobs has been re-elected to Congress, and that T J Anders in the First Judicial District, Nat. H. Bloomfield in the Second, and W H White in the Third, have been elected prosecuting attorneys. The first two are Republicans, the latter a Democrat. The next Territorial Council will consist of the following—by Council Districts: Jefferson, Island, Clallam and San Juan J A Kuhn Dem; Kitsap, Snohomish and Whatcom E O Ferguson Rep; King, C A. Hanford Rep; Pierce Mason and Chehalis, Jacob Hoover, Dem; Thurston and Lewis T M Reed Rep; Pacific Wahkiakum and Cowlitz C A Reed Rep; Clarke Skamania Klickitat and Yakima A R Hathaway Rep; Walla Walla, Daniel Stewart, Dem; Columbia, Whitman, and Stevens not heard from. The Republicans have elected five of the nine councilmen and will likely have the sixth. In the House, according to the best information we have gained, the following Republicans are elected: J. E Atkinson Jefferson; W Karten Jefferson and Kitsap; W. B Daniels and [illegible] Styles, Clarke; N. Whitney, Clarke, Skamania and Klickitat; S G Ward, [illegible] Hoff and John Chipman Thurston; W. H. Tibbetts, King; O B Iverson, Snohomish; L. F. Andrews, Whatcom; A M Miller, Kitsap; J H. Lang, Lewis; R G Newland, Columbia.

Democrats as follows: W T Barnes Wm Martin, [illegible] J. Gregory and H Vansyckle Walla Walla; Eson B. Ebey, Island; J B LaDy, Cowlitz; E. D. Warbass, Island and San Juan; John McReavy, Pierce and Mason; W. B. Kelly, Pierce. The other counties not heard from are likely to have elected four more Republicans, so that the House may be expected to stand 18 Republicans to 12 Democrats.

OREGON.

The grand jury report finding the public buildings [illegible] in Jackson county kept in order and in good condition.

E. L. White, of the Albany Democrat, gave the employes of that office an oyster supper last week, on the occasion of the anniversary of his birthday.

The Jacksonville Times says: "The present weather is very favorable for our farmers many of whom are busy plowing and sowing. A large area of grain has already been put in."

Ashland is overflowing with population—not a house for sale or to let. Cause: popularity of the village and its schools. Students have been pouring in from all parts of the State and California.

We learn that Mr N. R. Barber, Corvallis, has [illegible] grand master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. The vacancy in that office was caused by the [illegible] of N Baum, of Albany.

A burglar attempted to enter the house of Mart. Robinson, at Albany, on last Saturday night, but was foiled just in time to escape. The Democrat says: "It was no doubt his intention to steal the keys to the county vaults from the treasurer, and if he had succeeded in getting them he would have been the worst bilked man in the community, for there is not a cent in the county treasury, and will not be until about the 1st of December. As far as heard from Mart. Robinson is the only person who has made anything by this attempted robbery—he has the ladder, and nobody claims it."

At a special convocation of Harrisburg Chapter No. 15, R A M., convened by a dispensation of M. E. Grand High Priest, J B Lee, who was present and conducted the ceremony, the following named companions were elected and duly installed to serve [illegible], viz.: H. P., Enoch Hoult; R S, F. McCully; S. O. P. Tompkins, treasurer; J. [illegible] secretary; Damon Smith, C of H; W. W. Briggs, P S; Sam May, R A. C; John McDonald, G M 3d V; G R Ward, G M. 2d V; William McCulloch, G. M. 1st V; George W. Brandenburg, sentinel, [illegible]

THE TERRITORIES.

A gentleman just arrived from Snohomish states that the roads are in a horrible condition, being completely submerged. Travel over the mountains is now being interrupted and rain and mud will be the programme for the next five months.

Information is wanted of the whereabouts of Amos [illegible]. In 1860 he lived half a mile from the Chehalis river and about 80 miles from Gray's Harbor. Address Anson W. Heeley, Winsted, Connecticut, or James Woodruff, Waitsburg, W. T.

The six prisoners who cut their way through the floor (the same being in a rotten state and containing but few spikes) of the county jail at Port Madison on the evening of the 11th inst., have not been recaptured. No trace of them has been found since they left.

Cyrus H Walker was born at Whitman's Mission, near Walla Walla, Dec 7 1838. He is oldest son of Rev E Walker of Forest Grove, Oregon, formerly of the Spokane Mission, and is the oldest white man born in what is now known as Washington Territory.

The Dakota Tribune says: A three foot vein of coal has been discovered on the N P R'R, a few miles east of Bismarck. Capt Braithwaite, of the Fontenelle, reports the discovery by him of a nine foot vein cropping out within fifty yards of the river about fifty miles above Bismarck. The country is full of coal and it only needs a limited amount of capital to develop rich and paying mines. The Northern Pacific people are very enthusiastic over the [illegible] siding discovery, and propose to utilize it.

There is a good story and a true one withal, relative to Mr Gill long reporter for the Boston Post and well known as a fellow of infinite jest. He was reporting a dinner on the seventy fifth anniversary of the battle of Bunker's Hill. The dinner was a splendid affair and everybody was patriotic. Gill, when the excitement was at boiling point whispered to a friend, one of those gentlemen who are always 'happy' in speech making, that his father was engaged in the battle of Bunker's Hill. The orator arose, made a brilliant speech, alluded to Gill's father and Gill in the highest terms and proposed Gill's health, which was drunk with the usual honors, and one or two more. There were shouts of "Gill! Gill!" and he made a speech returning thanks in the usual manner and said: "But my learned friend omitted one fact—an important fact, of which he might have been unaware. My father was in the battle of Bunker's Hill, but he unfortunately fought on the British side." There was not quite so much enthusiasm after that. Gill has not indulged in speeches since.

The outlook for a more active condition in monetary affairs is very good and with the large amount thrown into general circulation by the [illegible] the belief [illegible] that many [illegible] revival of other branches of trade will take place and the era of dull times so long ruling, through out the country will give place to greater prosperity. Should it come politicians may claim the honor of bringing it about but the claim will be false, for as an exchange well remarks. It is [illegible] to affirm the idea that so far as our government obligations are concerned the succession of one party to another can make no difference and that the government to that extent is a unit and here as in Europe, while one party may be crying [illegible] abort the other [illegible] with double vigor. [illegible] American credit does not rest in the hands of politicians but in the honesty and steadfast probity of the American people regardless of political preferences. The issue is of too overshadowing importance to be disregarded or risked for minor and comparatively insignificant considerations. The people of the United States hold their fate in their own grasp and their future depends as we have already remarked wholly upon their action in the matter now pending.

The leading feature of encouragement to the business interests of the country is the fact that the import and export tables show how largely the balance of trade is now in favor of the United States. The consequence is that specie is now flowing to us from Europe and with the magnificent crops that have been gathered here this fall while there is at least the usual deficiency of breadstuffs in England and France it is certain that this import of specie must continue as there must be a large export of our grain and other food products. In this way as is well said the problem of resumption, which has been so much of a bugbear for so long a time is solved because we shall be on a specie basis almost before we know it. The Philadelphia Ledger thus puts it: The whole of the strife between the advocates of hard money and soft money will have been useless because we shall get on a specie basis in spite of ourselves and in spite of the politicians. Any nation or country that wants to bring its obligations to a par with gold has to become a creditor nation buy less than it sells, live on less than it earns and the thing is speedily accomplished, and the problem as to its financial condition is solved. It is precisely the same with a nation as with an individual. If the country earns more than it spends its credit will be at or above par without passing any laws or any trouble the whole financial difficulty being obviated by the simple remedy: pay as you go, and earn $1 50 where you spend $1.

Wheat Shipments

The wheat trade continues very active and under increased arrivals of tonnage the movement is large. The advance in prices has also stimulated the trade in this department, and agents of exporters report a very large quantity offering in the interior but some of it is held above current rates. The transactions are however of sufficient volume to call into requisition about all the transportation facilities available. Shipments from Oregon this year have been more largely to Europe than ever before that going hence to other countries being insignificant except flour shipments to San Francisco and northern ports.

San Francisco has sent 31 000 centals to Australia by steamer since the season began, and 7 000 centals to New Zealand. Three sailing vessels have been taken in California recently to load wheat for Australia they being the only ones engaged for that trade since harvest. Whether this is an opening of what may become a permanent market of demand for the product of the Pacific coast remains to be seen but the following from a Sidney paper received per last steamer rather discourages the hope of continued remunerative rates.

An upward movement in the South Australian market led to a further advance in the value of wheat and flour. It is possible that this may be only temporary, as the rise is attributed to anticipations that the growing crop will be injured to a considerable extent by drought. Latest Adelaide circulars estimate a surplus of 50 000 tons yet available from last season, and English prices prevent any outlet in that direction. With so large a stock on hand, the ruling quotations of to day should not form any basis for sending speculative shipments from California to the Colonies. The highest price we know as having been paid for Adelaide wheat is 6s, some holders ask 6s 3d, flour £13 10s a £14 10s.

Australia has heretofore been a very considerable exporter, and it is hardly likely that she will at once take rank as an importer.

Chicago Wheat Market.

CHICAGO, Nov 25—The closing of the past week has been signalized by increasing strength in breadstuffs market and prices which have ruled higher this week have been fully maintained. Wheat closed at $1 18 corn 44c oats 33c for cash. The influences brought to bear on the market have been small receipts and rather bullish Eastern news founded on prospects of further Eastern complications whether receipts are small on account of firmness of holders or paucity of stocks in the country cannot be definitely stated, but probably the former is the case since reports so far compiled go to show that the crop is good average in this section. Receipts for the week wheat, 110 000 corn 295 000 oats, 175 000 against 541 000 wheat, 217 000 corn, 115 000 oats same week last year. Aggregate shipments for the week have been 567 000 against 811 000 last year. To appreciate these figures it should be known that last year this date wheat was selling at $1 01 corn 49c oats 30.

OBJECTS.

This Savings Bank has been formed at the desire and under the auspices of thirty-one gentlemen citizens of Oregon and Washington Territory who have become stockholders therein along with certain other gentlemen in Scotland to supply a want hitherto much felt namely an institution where similar to those in California, the working farming and other classes of Oregon and Washington Territory may from time to time deposit their various savings along with the Bank's own capital for investment in Oregon and Washington Territory (to which the Bank's operations are limited, secured from Mortgages over City Properties Farm ing and other Lands for the purpose thereby of assisting to develop the industries of the North Pacific coast.

The Bank's Directors and Officers in Oregon having had considerable experience in finance and real estate securities their policy will be to guard depositors' moneys and the stockholders' capital by loaning only on first class securities, high interest being a secondary consideration. The Bank does not therefore seek to employ its funds in a commercial banking business confining its operations strictly to those securities with which its Directors are familiarly acquainted such as real estate loans advances on bonds assignments and similar securities which are not fluctuating in value, hence no loans will be made on Promissory Notes alone or Bills of Exchange and such like.

Security to Depositors.

The security for repayment of Depositors moneys is two fold.

1st. Not only the mortgages assignments, bonds and other pledges on which the Bank's deposits are carefully loaned and the real estate secured thereby which must be located in Oregon and Washington Territory, but also

2d. The Bank's own $300 000 capital specially pledged for the safety of depositors, in order that all losses (if any) shall be made therefrom, thus forming a double security for depositors moneys.
